EXELIXIS ANNOUNCES CLOSING OF GENOMICA EXCHANGE OFFER

- Genomica Stockholders Tender in Excess of 90% of Shares Outstanding as of December 28, 2001 -

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, CA - January 2, 2002 -- Exelixis, Inc. (Nasdaq: EXEL) today announced the closing of the exchange offer for shares of Genomica Corporation (Nasdaq: GNOM). The final exchange ratio of shares of Genomica common stock will result in conversion of each share of Genomica common stock into 0.28309 shares of Exelixis common stock. The exchange offer expired as scheduled at midnight on December 28, 2001.

Based on information provided by the exchange agent for the Exelixis exchange offer, approximately 23,026,086 shares of Genomica common stock were validly tendered during the offering period, including 8,748,708 shares that were subject to notices of guaranteed delivery. This total represents approximately 94.41% of the total outstanding shares of Genomica common stock.

Before the end of January 2002, Exelixis expects to initiate a merger in which Exelixis will acquire, at the same 0.28309 exchange ratio, the remaining shares of Genomica common stock not previously acquired in the exchange offer. Exelixis expects to complete the merger before the end of February 2002. A total of approximately 6,904,452 shares of Exelixis common stock will be issued for all of the outstanding shares of Genomica. Following the filing of the certificate of merger, Genomica will continue to exist as a wholly owned subsidiary of Exelixis.

The final exchange ratio of Exelixis common stock for outstanding shares of Genomica common stock was determined by the following formula: (a) $110 million divided by 24,460,254 (which represents the sum of the number of shares of Genomica common stock and preferred stock outstanding plus the number of shares of Genomica common stock issuable upon the exercise of all outstanding stock options and warrants with a per share exercise price of $5.00 or less) divided by (b) $15.88556 (which was the average closing sales price of Exelixis common stock on the Nasdaq National Market for the 18 trading-day period ending December 26, 2001).

ABOUT EXELIXIS

Exelixis, Inc. is a leading worldwide genomics-based drug discovery company focused on product development through its expertise in comparative genomics and model system genetics. An outstanding team of company scientists has developed multiple fungal, nematode, insect, plant and vertebrate genetic systems. Exelixis' proprietary model systems and comparative genomics technologies address gene function by using biologically relevant functional genomics information very early on in the process to rapidly, efficiently and cost-effectively translate sequence data to knowledge about the function of genes and the proteins that they encode. The company has a significant internal cancer discovery and drug development program, through which a number of compounds are expected to complete screening by the end of the year. Exelixis believes that its technology is broadly applicable to all life science industries, including pharmaceutical, diagnostic, agricultural biotechnology and animal health and the company has active collaborations with Aventis CropScience, Bayer, Bristol-Myers Squibb, Elan Pharmaceuticals, Pharmacia, Protein Design Labs, Scios and Dow AgroSciences, and is building its internal development program in the area of oncology.
